The fire was first discover, er under the floor of the nopper-room about 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon, but was, as it was thought, put out. However, the flames broke out again about 7 o'clock in the same place, and owing to the fact that they were under a heavy floor, it was almost impossible to locate them, and it was close on to 10 o'clock before the fire was under control. The loss on stock and machinery will probably reach $1,000 or $1,500.
